Good Morning Valerie,

I reached out to our Dell Rep because I am interested in getting a second monitor for my office. In thinking about what makes the most sense when looking at monitors, it made sense to look at monitors that included a camera and a microphone since none of our monitors currently have that. I thought this quote provided wasn't a terrible price and we should consider getting two. I could have one in my office and we could put one in Peter's office. This would create two locations employees could use to participate in webinars, zoom meetings, etc without having to use personal devices.

I was thinking while I had the Dell Reps attention I'd consider asking him about a laptop for you. You then could make that a second screen when you are here in the office if you wanted, but also use it to take home when you're working from home. Is that something you'd like me to do? If so is there a size or specifics from the PD laptop you are using that you like?

Thank You,

Jen Myers

Different Governing Terms may apply to different products and services on this Quote. The Governing Terms apply to the exclusion of all terms and conditions incorporated in or referred to in any documentation submitted by Customer to Supplier.
