Updated Plan for Bristol Harvest Festival on September 24, 2022

1. Vendors – How many?
2. Traffic flow plan –people can freely enter the green from any direction.
3. Food Court – we would like to move the food court to the parking spaces on the south side of Park St, facing in toward the green. We would not need to close off the street and there would be no lines forming into the street (we would move the vendors on that side of the green to another location. We're running into an issue with having them on West St, because two of the three food vendors use tables not food trucks, and so they are down on the road surface and the customers are up on the sidewalk, with a drop in front of them.
4. Music – we will have music at the gazebo. The bands will limit their size based on their comfort level but there are no longer limitations in place for band size or type of instruments. The MC would remind people of any safety guidelines throughout the event.
5. Port o' Lets – We would have two as in the past, at the northwest corner of the green on the pavement. We will clean them periodically throughout the day.
6. Safety – we will have signs on the green to ask people not to enter if they're sick, and to wear a mask if they're not vaccinated. We will also have the MC mention this several times throughout the day.
7. Included for 2022– pony rides are back and family games like coffee sack races. Do we have face painting or massages?
8. We would encourage other organizations to hold events around town to spread people out, and work with Bristol Core to encourage merchants to have sidewalk sales to draw people onto the Main St. Reach out to CORE...Ian Albinson
