ACRPC Update

ACRPC Welcomes New Water Quality Planner, Zach Roberts

Zach is from Virginia and is a recent graduate of the College of William & Mary with a degree in Government and Environmental Policy. Zach will be serving our office and state this year as a Water Quality Planner. He will assist with coordinating and implementing water quality planning functions for watershed projects, including municipal stormwater, transportation, and riparian buffers for member towns in Addison County. Zach is ready and committed to serve the region by supporting the health of Vermont's waters today and into the future, and he looks forward to making a positive impact on our communities and environment.

Announcements

Congratulations to Sandy Korda of Orwell!

An Orwell resident with more than 50 years of experience in emergency response has been recognized as Vermont's Emergency Management Director of the Year. Sandy Korda was recognized for his commitment and excellence during the annual Vermont Emergency Preparedness Conference September 20th.

"EMDs work hard to ensure their community's emergency response capabilities are strong, often on a voluntary basis," Vermont Emergency Management Director Erica Bornemann said. "Sandy is a dedicated EMD who truly cares about his community. During the COVID pandemic he spearheaded several initiatives to help his community, including organizing welfare checks for those in need of assistance and a volunteer effort to deliver medicines and essentials to those who were homebound.”

Clean Water

Water Quality Project Development Block Grant

ACRPC is accepting proposals for a statewide grant for groups interested in developing water quality projects. Funds from this block grant can be used for getting landowners, municipalities and other partners “on board” with projects to improve water quality and to move projects towards design and implementation. Projects may either be general (such as reviewing tactical basin plans to determine where projects may be helpful) to specific (such as beginning to plan actions). All project work, invoicing and reporting must be complete by October 31, 2023.

Energy Efficiency and Historic Preservation Retreat October 11-12, 2022

Are you struggling to understand how best to weatherize your historic building? Retrofitting historic properties to improve energy efficiency, reduce heating costs and keep historic features intact is possible! Historic buildings were designed to be efficient and take advantage of the resources available at the time of construction - sunlight, airflow, water. This retreat will explore how best to approach energy retrofits to maximize the building's inherent efficiencies and will share best practices that generally will not impact the historic character of your building.

Equity

VLCT Announces New Equity Resources for Municipalities

The VLCT Municipal Equity Toolkit is a ten-part online resource that covers everything from creating a municipal equity committee to building a framework and action plan to listing equity-related books, podcasts, and videos. It is free and available to all VLCT members and the public at vlct.org/JDEIB-resources. VLCT's equity consultants, Nikki Fuller Esq-SHRM-SCP of Workplace Matters and Dr. Wanda Heading Grant, helped create the toolkit in collaboration with the VLCT Equity committee and with the support of a grant from the Vermont Community Foundation. The toolkit includes resources for both internally focused equity efforts (ensuring a community is a model employer) and external equity resources (ensuring the community itself is a welcoming place to all). More information and resources on equity can also be found through the State of Vermont Office of Racial Equity.

The Vermont Fish & Wildlife Department Community Wildlife Program

The Vermont Fish & Wildlife Department Community Wildlife Program is proud to announce the schedule for our Fall educational series of webinars and training. This year we have five new topics planned and will be offering several sessions of each. Look at our schedule and register here: <https://anr.vermont.gov/content/trainings>.

Trainings: In addition to our webinar series, we're also offering two trainings online this fall, Environmental Leadership Training (ELT) Unit 1; From Science to Planning and ELT Unit 2; From Planning to Action. We will be diving into the intricacies of natural resource planning through exciting hands-on activities, role playing, and engaging presentations all aimed at helping you become a leader in your community. Each training involves attending three live sessions (held online) and a bit of homework between sessions to explore additional tools. We will also engage with a few web tools (like BioFinder) to expand your technical skills for planning within your community. See Trainings here: <https://anr.vermont.gov/content/trainings#Trainings> to learn more.
