We hope you will join this first of three events hosted by energy planners from Addison County and Central Vermont Regional Planning Commissions. This workshop series is intended to support member municipalities interested in municipal solar projects. Our goal is to define municipal solar, help towns understand what municipal solar CAN BE, and connect you with the resources and experts to begin the process.

Part I covers an overview of different models of municipal solar and provides the broad strokes of how to develop and implement projects. We will be joined by experts from Norwich Solar to learn from their experiences in developing projects with municipalities around Vermont.

Parts 2 & 3 will cover important components of project development from concept to key documents, including financing and ownership models, dual land use (agrivoltaics), storage, siting, and more!
