broken line. This is a dangerous dog with a history of attacking us when given an opportunity. The dog is a huge Cane Corso that must weigh over 100 pounds. We fear that someday someone could get seriously hurt by this dog. We were lucky that Ed was able to run as fast as he could back into our house. In the time it took him to run 10 feet, their dog had crossed our entire lawn. He is vicious and aggressive and we don't think it is a safe situation for anyone within its proximity. When Dan came out of his house, I told him what happened and he denied my report. It wasn't until he saw his dog was on a broken line did he bring it inside. He never apologized, or seemed the least bit concerned that his dog attacked my dog.
