I am writing concerning Santo's letter about the Lord's Prayer Rock. His issue has been passed around on Facebook multiple times, and the response from EVERYONE is "Do not do anything that will deface the inscription or destroy the inscription" along with the Rock itself. As of this writing, there are over 400+ comments about protecting and preserving this landmark. Safety is the responsibility of each and every person who drives, walks or bicycles by it. Maybe it should be considered a Historic Landmark.

Thanks, Michael D'Avignon

Dear Michael,

Thank you for writing on August 15. Your message has been logged and shared with the full Selectboard.

I have noted your suggestion regarding historic landmark status. For what it is worth, the rock is already listed on the Vermont State Register of Historic Places.

The Selectboard has taken no action on the matter and has nothing pending before it. Your message is a public record under Vermont law, as is this reply.

You are welcome to speak during Public Forum at any Selectboard meeting.

Regards,

Ian
